

TRIP IDEAS

Sudbury was founded as a nickel-mining town in 1883. Today, it's grown into the largest city in Northern Ontario with a cosmopolitan urban core, surrounded by many smaller communities, 300 lakes and seemingly endless natural wonders.

DAY 1 – SCIENCE AND THE CITY

1 SCIENCE NORTH

The first stop on your two-day tour is one of Northern Ontario's most popular tourist destinations—Science North. You can literally spend all day here and not run out of things to do. There's a 3D IMAX, Planetarium, Vale Cavern, Nature Exchange, Butterfly Gallery—and that's just for starters.

2 JIM GORDON WALKWAY

It's hard to pry yourself away from the fantastic exhibits at Science North, but when you're ready, head out to the Jim Gordon Boardwalk. Stretch your legs and get some fresh air as you walk along the shore of Ramsey Lake, just south of the city's downtown core, to Bell Park. Picnic time!

3 DYNAMIC EARTH & THE BIG NICKEL

Next up is Dynamic Earth, an interactive earth science museum that builds on the city's mining heritage. Focusing on geology and the city's mining history, you'll find plenty of interesting, hands-on exhibits. Before you leave, don't forget to take a selfie with the Big Nickel.

DAY 2 – ARTFUL ADVENTURES

4 ART GALLERY OF SUDBURY

Start your second day with a little culture, care of the Art Gallery of Sudbury. Housed in a turn-of-the-century mansion, the gallery celebrates local and contemporary works of art. Attend one of the many exhibitions, lectures, art classes, or special events. If a work catches your eye, you can buy it at the boutique.

5 A.Y. JACKSON LOOKOUT

If you're a fan of classic art, you've definitely got to pay a visit to A. Y. Jackson Lookout. Named after the famed Group of Seven artist, the lookout offers an epic view of High Falls as it cascades nearly 200-feet to the Sudbury Basin. There are three hiking trails and many picnic areas to explore as well.
